WHAT IS A DAPPS? ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW

Decentralized apps (Dapps) are like regular web apps but with a twist. They offer additional features with advanced security when compared to traditional apps.

Decentralized applications, or dApps, are new type of software that runs on a blockchain. Blockchain is a distributed database that allows for secure, transparent, and tamper-proof transactions. dApps can potentially disrupt a wide range of industries by providing a more secure and decentralized way of doing business. For example, traditional financial institutions such as banks are centralized, meaning a single entity controls them.

A decentralized application development company is a company that provides assistance to business entrepreneurs in the creation of decentralized applications. The DApps Development Company in India provides tools and frameworks to build decentralized applications.

KEY ADVANTAGES OF DAPPS

Decentralized: Decentralized means Dapps are independent, and a single entity cannot control them,dapps can be used to create trustless systems that do not require third-party verification.

Security: Dapps run on a P2P network instead of a single computer. This makes them more secure and less vulnerable to attack. By running on a PPC network, dapps are not subject to the same vulnerabilities as traditional applications. This makes them ideal for handling sensitive data or financial transactions.

Censorship-resistant: Because Dapps are decentralized, no single entity can control or shut down a dapp. This makes them ideal for applications that might be controversial or sensitive in nature.
